Series”) starting on Thursday 2nd April 2026 and ending on Sunday 4th October 2026 (the “agreed period”);

- The specific day / location is a corporate day, a test day, a practice day, a qualifying day or a race day or any combination at a single location;

Now it is agreed as follows:

1. TSL licences the Client to use information aggregated and calculated from the data collected by the TSL Timing Suite for internal analysis for the agreed period for the agreed fee.
2. TSL will provide teams with a Timing Information Display (TID) software program that will display the Race classification, Tracking Map, Sector information & Pit Stop timing, reducing the need to have TV’s connected to the local circuit feed. The TID program which runs on Windows PC’s, will, when connected to the internet, receive timing data via connections to the TSL Live Data Feed. The TSL Race timing feed is also included in this package.
3. This Licence allows the Client a maximum of five user connections to the timing data collected by the TSL Timing Suite. There is no cost for the first 5 connections. Any additional user connections must be agreed with TSL and will be subject to a cost of £75.00GBP per additional user;
4. The data will be provided to the Client in real time and in the format agreed between the Parties. TSL will use its best endeavours to assist, support and facilitate the exchange of data during the agreed period;
5. TSL shall not be liable to the Client for any losses whatsoever should the supply of data collected by the TSL Timing Suite cease or be disrupted at any time during the agreed period;
6. TSL restricts the use of the data gathered, including the use of any documentation referring to the data gathered, by the TSL Timing Suite
